

This is long overdue. A rule that was made in 1959 for nothing but political and self-motivated gain is an absurdity to the legal and aviation community. The only reason ALPA and and APA oppose it is politics and money. The majority of their membership wants the Captain seat and more money. Their thinking being the rule will change before they get to age sixty. Time to stop ending careers for age and base it upon something logical like an increased medical requirement.

You know the truth. Stop denying the injustice and stand up and be counted for what is right and just. Leave politics out of it. Show some courage for a change. Quit putting people out of a job with no medicare or Social Security for no good reason. Show some backbone. The people you are putting on the street are from a generation that certainly had it.